Meet the Library Staff!

Hi! My name is Eli Arnold, and I'm the Sturgis Library's Information Commons Librarian. I supervise our student assistant workforce, manage the Information Commons and provide reference and instruction to KSU students.

Madison is my dog. She spends her days sleeping, knitting, blogging and chasing squirrels.

I started at KSU in February 2012

and love it here!

The favorite part of my job is helping student research and telling them about the resources we offer. There is so much that we have for students. I love it when the KSU community experiences our worth!

Learn more interesting facts about Eli on our display in the Pilcher/Library lobby.

My alma mater is Oglethorpe University in Atlanta.
